We also may use certain standard web measurement and tracking technologies such as “cookies,” web server logs, or other statistics programs to collect usage information and track and record how you use the Site. Where our Site offers shopping, we may use cookies to keep track of items in your shopping cart. As you will see, third parties such as Myosport sponsors display logos and advertisements on the Site. These advertisements also may contain cookies. The use of advertising cookies sent by third-party servers is standard in the Internet industry. Myosport does not control, or have any responsibility with respect to, these third-party cookies. This data is anonymous and does not personally identify you. Usage information helps us measure the success of the Site and its features or pages, as well as improve your online experience. Your browser may have an option that allows you to accept cookies, reject cookies, or receive notification when a cookie is sent, but you should note that the use of such restrictive browser settings may limit your use of the Site.

In addition, we may utilize web beacons (also known as “action tags” or “one pixel .gif files”) to recognize you when you visit the Site. We do not use spyware, adware or any other similarly intrusive software. We also may use other technology, called clear GIFs, to provide us with other important anonymous information, such as when an e-mail has been opened.

Myosport limits the disclosure of your personal information to others. However, we do need to disclose your personal information in certain instances and mainly to the following recipients:

SECURITY PROCEDURES

Myosport takes commercially reasonable precautions, and has implemented commercially reasonable technical measures, to provide secure transmission of your personal information from your computer to our servers and to protect against the loss, misuse or alteration of personal information we have collected at the Site. When you transmit any financial information via the Site or app, we use industry-standard SSL (secure socket layer) encryption. Unfortunately, no data transmission over the Internet can be guaranteed to be 100% secure.

You are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your registration information and password and for all uses of your password. You should remember to sign out of your Myosport account and close your browser window when you have finished using the Site in order to protect

POLICIES WITH RESPECT TO CHILDREN

Myosport does not knowingly collect any personal information from children under the age of 13. As is further explained in the USE OF IP ADDRESSES section of this Privacy Policy, we do not link the IP addresses of Site users to personal information other than in specified circumstances. As is further explained in the USE OF COOKIES section of this Privacy Policy, we do use cookies on our Site, but such cookies are not linked to personal information unless such personal information is voluntarily provided to us via the Site.

In cases where Myosport collects personal information from children under the age of 18, we require parental consent before the collection is completed and before any such personal information is disclosed to third parties. For example, for Myosport membership, a parent or guardian's signature is required before the membership application is accepted. With the exception of Elite Athletes (for whom Myosport has received the required parental consent for disclosure) or children's names to Myosport honor rolls or event results (for whom Myosport has received the required parental consent for disclosure), Myosport will not disclose personally identifiable information about children.

USE OF IP ADDRESSES

An IP address is a number that is automatically assigned to your computer whenever you're surfing the web. Web servers, the big computers that "serve up" web pages, automatically identify your computer by its IP address.

When a user accesses web pages on our Site, our servers automatically log the user's IP address. Myosport uses IP addresses for purposes of system administration, auditing the use of the Site, and reporting aggregate information with respect to Site users to third parties. We do not normally link IP addresses to any information that personally identifies the user, meaning that the user remains anonymous to us. However, we will use IP addresses to determine the identity of a specific user: (a) as is required by law; (b) to comply with legal process; (c) to investigate claims with respect to use of the Site; and (d) as is reasonably necessary to protect the interests, rights or property of Myosport, its member organizations or others.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, some services within the Site, such as message boards, may display a user's IP address along with his or her user name and message. If you choose to take advantage of such services, you acknowledge and agree that you have voluntarily provided to us information that causes your IP address to link to personally identifying information, and that our obligations with respect to use and disclosure shall be the same as those that apply to any other personal information that you have voluntarily provided to us.

LINKED SITES

Our Site may contain links to other websites, including social media sites, which may have privacy policies that differ from our own. We are not responsible for the collection, use or disclosure of information collected through third-party websites and expressly disclaim any liability related to such collection, use or disclosure. We are not responsible for any information or content contained on such sites. Links to other websites are provided solely as a convenience. Your browsing, use and interaction on any other websites, including websites which have a link to the Site, are subject to that website's own rules and policies. Please review the privacy policy posted on any website that you may access through, or which links to, the Site.

Please note that if you provide information to us via a social media site or participate in a social media site linked to the Site, you consent to our use of your information for any reason as if it were submitted to us directly via the Site.
